WOMAN'S CLUB MAY PURCHASE LOT FOR HOME

Arlington Heights Woman's Club to Turn Large Library
Over to Village Library

The annual meeting of the Woman's club was held in the home of Mrs. Menard on April 20, 1927.

With president in the chair, very favorable reports were given from all standing committees. Our treasurer's report was one we were proud of. She stated with interest on bonds up to the 1st of June we had $1645.00, in the special fund and in our general fund $216.62, a report of the 7th district meeting April 7, was given, after which our President's message was given (which follows).

Unfinished business, then taken up was the voting of our club library of some 1400 books to the public library, which was unanimously carried, then the report of the board on securing a lot (a resolution having been adopted at the April 6 meeting that we buy a lot and that the board constitute a committee to consider propositions) which was discussed but on account of shortness of time the agitation was postponed until May 4, Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock when a special meeting is called to transact any old or new business necessary for next year's work.

In justice to the new members and those absent at the March 16 meeting in a little informal talk after the program, it was disclosed that the general opinion was that the club was governed by a minority of those prejudiced against card playing and dancing and a place to have them, so the answer came back let's test it out, let's prove who are in the majority for amusements and a place to hold them as well as the intellectual life of club life and thus the agitation at the present time was started, to buy a lot on which to build a club house which will not only benefit ourselves but the whole community. The $4,000,000 club house built by the Illinois athletic women's club was started by three women, our own loved Mrs. Severance president of the 7th district and our president and one of the founders.

The conscientious objectors are many, in fact so many that fear the minority will prove the majority but in defense of the question, will say we have set aside in the special fund, a small sum more for year for about 20 years or more for the purpose of building a club house sometime in the future.

That future is here and now we have sufficient funds to pay for the lot, so let us trust that God will raise up a Nehemiah if like the people of old we have "a mind to work."

A resolution passed at April 6 meeting:

Whereas: We the officers and members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, feeling very strongly our need of a place to hold our meetings and keep our records.

Also realizing the great need of a place where our members and young people can have their social card parties and supervised dances and amusements.

Are desirous of deciding on a location on which to build a club house.

We have now been organized 40 years and have saved the sum of $1842.52 and as the most desirable lots are all being bought up.

Resolved, That we decide to buy a lot at the present time on which to build a club house.

Madam President: I move to adopt the resolution.

Annual address: April 20, 1927.

I just want to say a word of appreciation to the board, committees and members who have supported me so loyally in the programs and work of the club the past year and especially Mrs. Menard, who has opened her home so graciously (for the small sum of $3.00 a meeting) and given us the benefit of the kitchen and piano, besides always helping us in the serving of refreshments by making the coffee, doing up the dishes after we were adjourned, getting the chairs and table out and putting them all back again (for which I wish you would give her a rising vote), which was done.

Every program, (with the exception of the first evening program which was omitted) has been carried out as printed in the year book, which you will admit with me is very unusual. Also very sad and unusual is the death of three of our members, and four of our members who have lost their husbands during the past year, to which I feel you join me in heartfelt sympathy. We have had one daughter and one son of members married and three new babies born for which we all join in congratulations to the members so favorably. If there are more I have missed we extend to them congratulations also.

I heard an address at the League of Woman voters last week on modern social problems or six key words to success, which were so good want to leave them with you. First was Humor (the sense of humor essential) 2nd as Tolerance (agree to differ and resolve to love to see the best in) 3rd courtesy (makes for smoothness), 4th diagnosis (only important and needful to find out the cause), 5th consultation, (If Woodrow Wilson had taken others with him to Europe and done more consultation we would probably now have been in the League of Nations), sixth and last is consideration. In fact a scientific attitude of search for the truth at all times. Then he asked the question, what bridges are we building for

Voice of the People

Editor, Niles Center Herald.

Dear Sir: May a constant reader address a few words of appreciation for the very fair and impartial way in which your paper handled news of the recent elections in Niles township?

Your manner of reporting local political events was in sharp contrast to one of your local competitors which seemingly started out with a kind of half-hearted intent to be "impartial," only to ripen in a few issues later on into an effusive, in fact, one might be justified in saying even an abusive, "apology" for its half-hearted attitude, coupled with a violently partisan diatribe against one political ticket in Morton Grove, and a bland and blatant extreme endorsement of the other ticket.

That such crude and amateurish handling of "news" does not pay in these enlightened days of our community, is proved by the most recent issue to the paper referred to, which, finding that it had bombastically endorsed the losing ticket and unmercifully abused the winners in the recent village election, now finds itself "in a Divil of a pickle" and resorts to the most amusing of mental contortions in its efforts to appease those whom it would have liked to have made the victims of its wrath, said efforts to appease taking the ludicrous form of a senile apology, to use its own words, that it "was not merely 'all wet,' and then proceeds to 'pass the buck' by attempting to put the blame on to some unnamed and mysterious person referred to as 'the Dopester'."

Another amusing angle is given to this journalistic mess, because of the fact that the publication in question professes to encourage young and budding residents with journalistic ambitions, by not only opening certain of its columns to them, but giving information as to how the newspaper game is conducted. In all moderation, we do submit that the best way we can think of whereby to train young journalists would be to show them how the paper referred to handled the "news" of the recent local campaigns and elections, and point it out to the learners as the best example of "how not to do it."

In bold relief and starkly stands the attitude of the Editor of the Niles Center Herald, who, in the weeks preceding the election, gave all candidates and tickets an "even break," without either abuse or exaggeration, and who, therefore, still occupies his usual position of dignity and fairness and is not under any necessity of cringing apology nor of ridiculous mental contortions and verbal machinations, as a preliminary move toward "getting in" with those respected members of our community, and especially of Morton Grove, who constituted "the ticket" which said newspaper referred to as "one of hidden policies" and "unknown bosses," which "had something it hoped to put over on the citizens of Morton Grove," a "selfish clique, striving for control of the village," etc., ad nauseum.

It can be truthfully stated that it is the hope of many Morton Grove citizens that the new mayor will allow the publication in question and its representatives, to enjoy for some time the very "cold seat" which they prepared for themselves, until they have thoroughly learned the lesson which they have so thoroughly arranged for themselves.

And, allow it to be added, that, we would like to assist any young people journalistically inclined, to find the best way of handling the Niles Township Village election campaigns, it would appear that the best way would be to refer them to the straightforward, unbiased and impartial way in which such news was recently handled by the "Niles Center Herald."

Arlington Heights New Board Will Hold First Meeting Next Monday

Mayor Plentie and the other newly elected associates will hold their first meeting next Monday evening, the regular meeting night. The votes have been canvassed by the retiring board members, who expect to hold a final meeting and adjournment this Friday evening.

The youth coming on to pass over? In dwelling on our past co-workers, their loyal spirit has beckoned me on to greater deeds of valor and a greater realization that in the unity of persons is power. "The unity of persons," or "power is the unity of persons," Mrs. W. W. Guild, Pres.

Dr. Maltbie Babcock has given us these lines which make a direct appeal for courageous and sacrificial service, "Be Strong!" We are not here to play, to dream, to drift, we have hard work to do, and loads to lift. Shun not the struggle, face it, 'tis God's lift. Be strong!

At the close of our annual meeting we had a happy surprise, on going to the dining room we found the dining table all set, with lace tablecloth, China and colored glass and dill-gold ware enough to make you envious for six people and Miss Paulsen of Chicago, there to instill in our minds the proper use and ways of doing things for which we all gave her a vote of thanks.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In Tuesday's issue an error was made in the reporting of the third winner in the oratory contest of Niles township. The place was won by Walter Ambler, of the East Prairie school.

MANY TEACHERS JOIN IN ANNUAL MEET IN CHICAGO

More than 2,000 teachers of the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Teachers association gathered in the Beardsley gymnasium of the Evanston township high school Monday for their annual convention and adjourned after leaving several inspiring addresses and electing a new slate of officers.

Many sectional meetings were held in the various assembly rooms before the joint meeting at 10:45 o'clock. Orville T. Bright of Dolton, president. Wilfred F. Beardsley, superintendent of Evanston township high school, welcomed the delegates.

"The youth problem is really not a youth problem but an adult problem," contended Dr. William Mathew Lewis, president of George Washington university, who was the principal speaker of the morning. His subject was "What is Right with Youth."

Association with thousands of students had made him reach the conclusion that there was never a generation that faced the truth so frankly, that was so full of intellectual curiosity, and so honestly eager to do something worthwhile. "Whenever I go into a home which holds the old American ideals I find the young people as fine and as wholesome as they ever were. I suggest a stay at home night for parents," said Dr. Lewis, asserting that the youth was standing up under the pressure of distracting influences and adult example better than might be expected.

The large cafeteria was taxed to capacity to accommodate the hundreds of guests. Mrs. Donald A. Mann was the chairman of the luncheon. Fred W. Carberry led the community singing, with Milton Hosking at the piano.

The afternoon session opened with an address by A. L. Whittenberg, on the subject, "Why Join the N. E. A.?" and asked for support for this organization.

Dr. William McAndrew, superintendent of schools in Chicago, spoke on the subject, "It is Better Than It Was. Why So?" Dr. McAndrew spoke on the improved status of the teaching profession, tracing the change in the public attitude from the time of Plato and the Greek pedagogue to the modern attitude.

Improvement in the status of teachers is due to the fact that the teachers today are trained to deliver the goods," said the Chicago educator, asserting that if the profession was contemptuous of the spoken of today it was by the teachers themselves, not by the public.

Mr. McAndrew, who knows the value of humor in oratory, complimented the teachers on their military and contrasted the teacher of today with the badly groomed "sad-eyed sisters" of former years.

The elections resulted in the choice of the following officers for the coming year: President, Miss Martha Olsen, primary supervisor for district 75 of Evanston. During the past year she served as chairman of the executive committee.

Vice president - Mrs. Madeline Biederman of Chicago District 73, East Prairie School.

Secretary - David E. Walker, assistant superintendent of District 76. He was re-elected to office.

Treasurer - E. L. Nygaard, superintendent of Kenilworth schools. Re-elected to office.

Both Highland Park and Waukegan are being considered for next year's convention. Final choice will be made by the executive committee within the next month.

August Nolting, Pioneer Elgin Butter Man, Dies

August Nolting, pioneer butter and cheese man of Elgin died on April 25 in his home at the age of 92. He was born October 11, 1834, at Sonneborn, Lippe, Delmold, Germany, came to Illinois shortly after the Civil War. He was a charter member of the Elgin Board of Trade and served on the board of education several terms.

The Noltings are not strangers here as Mrs. Nolting is a sister of Mrs. Fred Sieburg and the sons and others of their family have more than once given service of song in the Presbyterian church. The daughter of August Nolting, Mrs. F. F. Spiegler and three sons E. L., Julius and Fred Nolting, cousins of Henry, Fred, Edwin and Walter Sieburg, and Mrs. Joe Horcher, Jr., all remembered here for their musical treasures.

Arthur Behrens is much improved in health under treatment of Dr. C. A. Starck. Art says, "Yes, I have my appendix."

Nick Weber Calls For "Police" Brings the Return of 'Stolen' Car

Nick Weber, proprietor of the Arlington Heights paint store has a lot of faith in the ability of the Arlington Heights police force. He parked his car in front of his business place one day last week. A short time later, he noticed that the auto had disappeared. His call for help was heard by Officer Skoog and it was not long before the car was found, parked in front of Mr. Weber's home. If you want Mr. Weber to buy the cigars the next time you meet him, here is the story. Upon entering his store, he had given orders to his son to get the truck and make a delivery of paint and wall paper. This the son did, but what was the use of walking home after the truck when dad's auto was handy. Thus he took the car to get the truck to deliver the paint. Dad took the telephone to call the police who took quick action to find the car that was taken from under Mr. Weber's nose. Officer Skoog says that Weber did not even know his own license number and when questioned over the phone could give very little description of the car. He did not deserve the return of the car and this story would have been kept hid but Nick forgot to "buy off" the reporter.

Adam Greiner, an inmate of the Altonum at Arlington Heights, is a suicide. He was found by Chas. Stier, superintendent of the hospital, hanging in an old shed upon the grounds. Mr. Stier immediately called Officer Skoog of the local police force, who gave permission for the removal of the body to the morgue. The inquest is being held this afternoon. The deceased was born Nov. 24, 1852, in Germany, and was divorced. He came to the United States in 1872, settling in Belle Plaine, Minnesota. He has one son, Henry Greiner, of Peru, Ind., two daughters Anna Freheit, of Hammond, Minnesota and Mary Brigan of Grand Falls Wisconsin. He entered the old folks home March 10, 1922, and Supt. Stier says he has been despondent for some time.

Plan Indoor Ball League For Local Organizations

A number of playground baseball enthusiasts of Arlington Heights are in hopes of organizing a league composed of teams from the various organizations of the town. A meeting will be held at the east side school grounds next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Representatives are wanted from the various churches, Lions club, business men and other societies. There is a whole summer of sport before us, why not enjoy it. Everybody is welcome at the meeting. If you can not enter a whole team in this league, come and be a part of somebody else's team.

At the Door

W. F. SIEBURG IS ENTERTAINING HOST TO LIONS

Members of the Arlington Heights Lions Club had a special treat at their dinner Tuesday evening. The treat came through the courtesy of Lion Walter Sieburg. It is a rule of the Arlington Heights club that every member as his time rolls around, must give a five minute talk upon any subject that he desires. Our popular druggist was booked for Tuesday night. He decided that he would rather pay out good money for a speech that he did not have to make than to give one for nothing. Thus it was that the Temple Quartette of Chicago appeared upon the program in lieu of Walter's five minute talk. While the tail twister felt like leveling a fine against the druggist for not facing the guns, he got even by booking the quartette for nearly a dozen numbers and he hopes Walter engaged that quartette by the number of songs they were to sing, in which case the "five" would have been plenty.

Anyways, the members of the quartette were jolly good fellows and they had as good a time with the Lions as did the latter in listening to their numbers.

Otto Landmeier was the other member, who was booked for a speech that evening. He also produced a substitute in the person of A. H. Bewig of Lombard. The speaker is a representative of the hardware firm of Hibbard, Spencer & Bartlett and in his talk gave an insight into the hardware business that was enlightening to his listeners. He opened their eyes to the great number of Lions (lines) in the hardware lines. As an example he mentioned that there are 80 types of files, forty different kinds of tacks and that the business has become very complex. He spoke well of the hardware business with never a mention that there is such an article as a "hammer" upon his shelves. He knew that Lions have no use for such an article.

All the present officers were renominated. Lion Kraft was suggested for the office of 3rd vice-president, made vacant by the death of Mr. R. F. Perrin.

The Lions Tamer got in some good work by the distribution of "goat" medals. One of the tin medals was awarded to each Lion present. Said medal labels the holder as a "goat" and the only way that he can get rid of the medal is to be delivered and immediately presented to Captain Gieske. Then dancing was again enjoyed until "Home, Sweet Home" was played at 11 o'clock.

A good many newspapers are publishing extracts from the bible, which must be live news to a lot of their readers.

Conference Trophy Presented at P. T. H. S. Basket Banquet

On Friday evening, April 22, the Northwest Conference Championship trophy was presented to the P. T. H. S. basketball team at a banquet given by the students at St. Paul's Evang. church at 6:30 o'clock.

The students and faculty met at the schoolhouse at 6 o'clock and from there went to the church, where a delicious dinner of cocktail, baked ham, mashed potatoes and everything down to apple pie was served by the Needle club. The eighth grade girls waited on the tables. The tables were prettily decorated with gray and maroon paper, basket-balls and flowers. After the feast, the merry-makers sang and gave yells for the team.

Carl Starck, acting as toastmaster, then introduced the speakers as follows: Our Team.....Herman Gieske Urah Rah.....Howard Smith Respect.....Robert Deverman Teamwork.....Louis Reuse Earnestness.....Royal Dreyer Ambition.....Dalton Kruse Maroon and Gray.....Ben Grandy Success.....Supt. G. C. Butler Finis.....Coach Kincaid

The players said that these five men had worked together for two years, that the yells at the games had not arrived on time, and that the members of the team had learned respect through working with the coaches and referees. It was through teamwork, earnestness, and ambition that they brought Maroon and Gray to victory by winning first place in the conference.

The definition, "He is a success who has lived well, loved much, and gained the respect of little children," was applied to our team by Mr. Butler.

Coach Kincaid told of the cold hall and other disadvantages which the boys had to meet, but through faithfulness and hard work they were victorious.

Mr. Brown, principal of the Arlington Heights high school, then presented an imaginary trophy to the team, as the actual one had not arrived on time. One of the finest things he said about Palatine was that we had won the respect of all the other teams in the conference.

Then all the guests went to the high school, where they danced to the music played by William Sweitzer. The assembly was decorated in a fitting manner with maroon and gray basket-ball equipment. At 9:30 the trophy, a large silver engraved basket-ball, was delivered and immediately presented to Captain Gieske. Then dancing was again enjoyed until "Home, Sweet Home" was played at 11 o'clock.

Track Meet Friday

On Friday afternoon the different classes will vie for the track championship to be held on the athletic field. There is room for a lot of enthusiasm over track and field competition, especially since this school is the holder of the Northwest Conference championship. This meet will serve as a tryout for the school team which has its first meet a week later in Palatine.

Attendance of Meetings Will Bring a Better Knowledge of Affairs

Village, town and school elections are over for this year and if our citizens will all make it a point to attend as many of these board meetings as they can, they will have a better understanding of why these different boards do the many things that they do. The voters elect them to serve the people, without any intention of ruling the people. As we understand it they are expected to decide different questions as the majority of the people may wish. But if any of these boards are forced to hold regular meetings and decide the different questions that arise unbeknown to the people, and all because so many people take it for granted that when they voted them in that they were supposed to keep mum until after the questions were acted upon and then kick because they were decided the way they were. It is the duty every voter should intend to, namely attend every meeting of their school and village board and know just why decisions are made. In America we have no one man power and the voice of the people should govern.

Catholic Church to Build Modern School At Barrington Soon

Ground was broken last week for the erection of a building to be used as a parish school for St. Anne's church of Barrington, Rev. J. A. Duffey pastor.

The estimated amount to be spent on the school building proper is $28,800. It will be ready for occupancy in September.

Music will be an important feature. The school will not be confined to Catholics, children of parents of any religious persuasion being admitted.

Past Officers of Palatine Chapter Have Own Night

The past officers of Palatine chapter No. 555 O. E. S. made their annual appearance in the chapter last Friday evening when Miss Ceila Hausam and Hugo J. Thal served in the east. It was the first guest night of the year and was greatly enjoyed. Officers of past years, had "brushed up" on the work and the initiatory work was very well done. Judge Homer J. Byrd was the candidate. The 1927 officers of the chapter acted as escorts for Miss Hausam. Among those escorted were the officers during Miss Hausam's year.

The refreshment committee had made a special effort in honor of the occasion and served cream chicken. Special favors were found at the places of the officers of the evening.

Mother's day will be observed next Friday evening with a special program to which all Masons and Chapter members are invited with their mothers.

Heights Nine Trims Bensenville

The high school team opened the home season with a 6-1 win over the visitors in a rather easy contest on last Tuesday. Bill Diederich held the opposition to three hits as his team mates gave him almost perfect support in committing only one error which allowed a runner an extra base.

Wahl started the offensive in the first inning with a triple. Rodewald followed with a single and brought in the second run a few minutes later. That ended the scoring until the fourth when Koazzemanoff was bombarded for 2 doubles, 1 triple and 2 singles which netted the home team four runs and placed the game in cold storage.

The hitting was much better than in the first encounter and with some good practice weather, the local nine will be ready for the conference race when Franklin Park comes to Arlington on Tuesday of next week. The game will be called at 4 p. m. and no admission is ever charged.

On Friday afternoon the different classes will vie for the track championship to be held on the athletic field. There is room for a lot of enthusiasm over track and field competition, especially since this school is the holder of the Northwest Conference championship. This meet will serve as a tryout for the school team which has its first meet a week later in Palatine.

SCOUT HONORS WILL BE GIVEN NEXT TUESDAY

District Court of Honor to be Held at Arlington Heights
High School; May 3rd

A big court of honor of the boy scout organization will be held in the Arlington Heights high school May 6 at 8 o'clock. Each member of the court of honor from Park Ridge to Barrington will be present to help put on the work, and every scout entitled to any honors will receive them at this time and any scouts seeking their first class rank will try and have their applications in at least before the first of the month. Every scout in the district is invited to attend and a general invitation to the public is also extended.

The Arlington Heights Lions Club will take the opportunity at this meeting to present the flag which they promised to the high school troop of the local scouts.

This meeting will be interesting to the general public. The candidates for scout honors will be required to take their tests before the judges.

The Arlington Heights troop No. 8, of which E. D. Whitmore is scoutmaster has stood first among the scouts of the district for some time. This is largely due to the interest that is being displayed by the members of that troop, many of whom are passing into second class.

Executive Board Meeting. All members of the executive board are requested to be present at the Methodist Church May 5th at 8 o'clock sharp for the board's regular meeting.

The standings of the councils for this week is very interesting, and if credit were to be extended for activities of local members to the various committees, Park Ridge would lead. However this credit will be extended later on, thus giving each council an opportunity to function.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horstman of Mt. Prospect gave them a shower Monday night in honor of the five months old baby that has been adopted into their home.

A. J. Lauterburg, driving ambulance in answer to an emergency call at Barrington Thursday morning, accidentally hit J. D. Cofton, a cigar salesman employed by P. J. Ruby, of Chicago. The latter was removing some cigars from the back of the truck. Reports received as we go to press state that he was not seriously injured.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Why raise the howl—"calamity," When after years a change we see? It may be we will learn, at last To profit by our blunders past— And in the end, we yet may be— By thinking right from cliques set free.

Arlington Heights is a growing city, and if we are to live up to the slogan—A City of Good Neighbors, we will have to remember the "other fellow" has a right to his opinion and his share of public honor, and place once in a while. If we are to be a city at all we shall have to pay the price. City improvements increase our taxes. This has been and will continue to be, so why bring this up now?

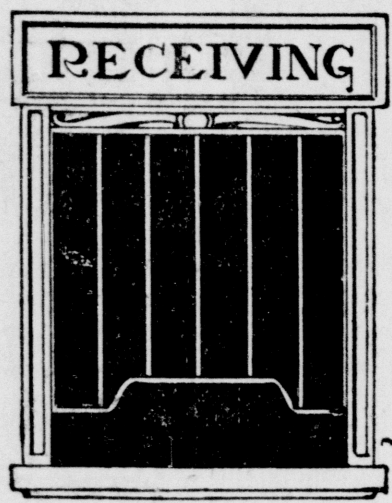

Before election, this was said of the incoming board, "They will make us to pay higher taxes." Now this could hardly be, as all the improvements brought in even under our efficient retiring board were not wholly to blame for our high taxes, during the past few years. We are in Cook county!

We must pay the price of all these improvements and no "board" or set of men, however rightly minded can stay, or force the car of progress. When Cook county drives, I did once complain when a tax of 36 dollars was placed on an acre of unimproved ground for the highway three or four blocks away. And through the kindness of Mayor Mors the sum was reduced to eighteen dollars, which we paid like a little man although it hurt. Now friends we need to adjust ourselves to the changed conditions of a little village on the prairie, to a great growing city. Learn to adjust ourselves to these conditions and to a consideration of others rights.

Speaking of adjusting ourselves to conditions, and changes reminds one of what some one told about the wonderful sense shown by a dog, in this line. You know the dog that sits on the seat with Mr. George Klehm, when he goes dashing about from one busy scene of action to another in his car. This dog sits quietly by Mr. Klehm while he bowls along the smooth pavement but when the car strikes the mud roads and the bumps he sits on his haunches, and hangs his fore paws over the back of the seat—in perfect adjustment don't you see?

Oh, well, whether we will or no, the adjustment will have to come. Now this morning one of our busy housewives says she has been cleaning house and the more she cleans the dustier her house seems to be, until she is discouraged. Well maybe it is because just now in our town so many people are kicking up a dust! Then looking backward (which is absurd) let us remember the old days when the dry summers came, how just plain wagons used to raise impenetrable clouds of dust.

Heard a young man, a property owner and Chicago realtor say, we are one of twelve towns in Cook county paying the heaviest taxes. Right here I feel compelled to speak of the unfairness shown toward those who for good and sufficient reasons are or a time renters. At Park Ridge a Zastisite move ruled the late election under "The Home Owners Party." That is not a democratic idea, and it is in the main wrong. A tenant pays just as heavy taxes and sometimes even heavier than is paid by the owner of the property he occupies. Every tenant pays his full share of public tax else why do people become landlords?

Is grammar passing into incoherent desuetude? Judging from the incorrect construction of sentences—and faulty composition observed in the writings not only of present day pupils, but of educators and authors as well, we are led to ask this question. A Chicago teacher who has a pretty general knowledge, and an intelligent understanding, as well as large experience in the schools of today mentioned this subject in a recent talk about our schools. Since we must teach correct language and grammar is a constructive study, it seems strange it is dropped.

This same teacher said she wanted a grammar, as a reference book and searched through several large book stores in Chicago and was unable to find a text book of grammar. "Anciently" termed, a study to impart "the speaking and writing of the English language correctly." It may be grammarians are born not made. In my old days of teaching knew a woman who used to say, "my son Benjamin Franklin knew grammar before he could read." Maybe all children are like this gifted son, and need no grammar.

Read the other day of Shirley McNeil in Nebraska, only three years old and she can recite Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Can add and subtract like a seventh grader, and speaks fluently as any normal child thrice her age. Umph! that not so much! We had a little girl here in Arlington Heights who at the age of three could name all the books in the bible, in their order, could repeat the 23rd psalm, the ten commandments and most, if not all of the sermon on the mount, and a whole lot of things not in the bible nor "set down in our philosophy," either. Arlington Heights has some mighty bright youngsters, now and in the goneby days.

It is sad to note that at this week-end comes the sale of Mrs. Hitchcock's household goods, all the treasures of a lifetime in home keeping. One cannot think of this without sad emotions. And only a short time since the selling of the household belongings in the Fairchild home. One of the older places in Arlington Heights. What such a home has meant to the builders, to the family who saw, one by one these household treasures and utilities added to the things which make a home. In this day of making many new homes, it is wholesome for us to meditate sometimes on the close of these.

From a scientific research note we learn that what are regarded by anthropologists as the most primitive dwellings in the world, are to be found along the Ilian Bay region. These habitations are little more than sheltered nests built on poles, instead of trees. Above the water built of sticks and straw, a very large bird might carry for the Moros "outside room and bath." The bathroom below and all around the house. Always warm and no heating plant needed and no taxes or insurance to pay!

From the south, north and west comes the annual report "Fruit crop destroyed by frost." Now do not go to being dolorous about this. It is one of the phases of "routine work." We have it from one of our local fruit growers that even in this northern, cold climate the fruit is not all destroyed. You just wait until later dispatches call for cherry and peach pickers, and let us hope for at least a crop that will not need to be kept to rot on the ground to keep up prices.

Now let us all repeat these lines:
Over the shoulder and slope of the dune
I saw the white daisies troop down to the sea
A white cloud in summer, a snow drift in June
The people God gave us to make our hearts free.
The Oriole whistled them out of the wood
The Bobolink routed them up from the dell
And all of their singing was "life it is good,
And all of their dancing was life it is well."

Yet just "Life, it is well," and let us go forward into it with hope and thanksgiving for all that is ours "to have and to hold" to hear, see, and enjoy.

More and more one is impressed with the human tendency to be copyists; to "do as others do; so we see a likeness in homes and home furnishings; a throwing aside of old and beautiful things for the latest style in furniture, raiment, and home grounds. Why, not be original, be yourself. Insofar as your individual ideas and belongings do not interfere with the rights of others.

See here, new houses in a row, All modern and right up to date, But how can owners ever know Which is his home, coming home late?

There see a score of lawns so fine, Each with its cement walks so trim Its trees and shrubs, set on a line Without a curve or tricky whim.

There see a group of pretty girls Each with her modish new spring hat,
Each bob with the same waves and curls
Silk hose, ensemble and all that.
And note this group of gay young

Base Ball Season Open in Heights On Next Sunday

The Arlington Boosters base ball team will open the local base ball season next Sunday when they play the Chicago All Stars, a colored team from the city. Mayor-elect Plentie will pitch the first ball. The games will be held on the first base ball diamond. The local Boosters are willing to back base ball in Arlington Heights, but as support alone will not go far unless the town itself backs them up, Good base ball games cost real money to manage and loyal support, both morally and financially is necessary if Arlington Heights is to have a winning team in the field this year. Your attendance at the first game will encourage the boys. The well known Art Dieball will be in the box for the locals. Harold Peter will be in back of the bat.

MISSIONARY TELLS CHINA CONDITIONS

Miss Viola Miller, a missionary sponsored by the Northwest Branch of the W. F. M. S. of the Methodist Church is in the troublesome China districts. She was a recent visitor to Palatine and other Methodist church in this vicinity and only returned to the China field last fall. This paper two months ago published a letter from her written shortly after her arrival in the far eastern country in which she told of her disapproval of the advice of consular officials and her insistence upon going to her station in Nanking. That letter was so well received by our readers, many of whom are personally acquainted with the writer, we are publishing below a letter written a month ago by Miss Miller, telling of her recent experiences.

March 14, 1927.

Dear Northern District Women:
I am sure your thoughts and prayers have been going out to China missionaries these last few months. When I started up river in October I can assure you I had no thoughts of being an "evacuee" within the next few months.

We had a perfectly glorious entrance into the New Year, for we had spent the last week in the Old Year as a week of prayer and preparation for the work of the New Year. Many of the nurses received a fresh infilling of the Holy Spirit and we were all ready to begin the New Year with a consciousness of a clear sky came the flash of lightning—word from the Consul to pack up and be prepared to leave on short notice. We had received notices like this before so we did not pay much attention to it; a few days slipped by and as the situation grew more tense down river the Consul's advice grew more urgent until one day the word came for all women and children to leave, and all the men who could possibly do so. Even after this notice, we remained three weeks longer, hoping against hope that Dr. Chen would arrive. But having allowed a reasonable length of time for her to make the journey, and as we had received no word from her, the Consul reserved passage for us on the next boat, even then we were delayed another day. We sent three wires to Dr. Chen who was in Peking on a year's leave of absence, taking Post Graduate work. Much to our dismay we had to leave before she arrived. We learned later that our telegrams had not reached her.

It gladdened our hearts however to see the wonderful spirit of our Chinese co-workers; nurses and servants assured us they would do their best to carry on the work. We left the hospital open with the nurses in charge until Dr. Chen arrived. So often during our last week there they prayed that their faith fail not when persecution came; they wanted to be true even though it might mean death itself. We left Saturday morning tearful but triumphant in the fact that God was just as close to them as to us. So often during the last weeks we heard, "God is not leaving us when the foreigners leave, God is still with us, we must depend upon Him, we must trust Him now as never before. His work depends upon us, we must go forward."

Our trip down river was no never to be forgotten. Old friendships were renewed for there were people who were getting on at every point of anchorage, some who had to come away under great stress and difficulty and others who came away quietly as we did. We started thirty-four strong on a small boat that normally carried four foreign passengers. We changed boats three times and each time the crowd swelled so that by the time we reached Shanghai our number almost reached the two hundred mark.

There was no marked degree of Red propaganda when we left, but because of travel difficulties the Legation at Peking urged the Consuls in Szechuan to evacuate the people in their territory as soon as possible. We also felt that our Chinese co-workers were safer and could better carry on the work with us absent should the Reds predominate in our section of the province. Bishop Grosse called us together in a Missouri meeting shortly after we arrived and told us that since the North was comparatively quiet we could all probably find something to do in the interim of waiting. After spending a little time in Shanghai re-packing and getting accustomed to civilization again, Miss Holmes and I got on a boat and went to Tientsin and from there by rail to Peking. I have only been in Peking a few days, but if all the time here is going to be as interesting as this short time has been I am sure it will have proved to have been a profitable move. We are planning to take some work at Peking Union Medical College along the line of work we are doing in the West.

When we reached Shanghai we learned that Dr. Chen had arrived from Peking a few days before and was sailing for West China the following day. You can imagine her surprise when she came into the office the next day to get the money for her ticket and found us sitting there. I wish you could have looked into the face of this brave little woman; she realized keenly that she was facing responsibilities that she had never faced before, new tasks awaited her, once or twice she said, "Oh, how can I go back without you folk?" and then she would straighten up and say, "Oh, Pray that God's strength may be made perfect in my weakness." How could we be discouraged when God has raised up women like Lydia Chen to help carry on the work. Then I wish you could meet our Elizabeth Wang, the nurse we left in charge, just a wee mite of a girl but so strong spiritually. During a conversation just before we left we asked her what she would do if any of the nurses would not listen to advice, she replied, "I will pray with

A Bathroom on Wheels Motor Exhibit Plumbing Fixtures to Visit City

Every home owner in Arlington Heights will be interested in seeing the remarkable traveling exhibit of plumbing materials which will visit us on Tuesday May 3. In a big special body built on a motor truck a varied and interesting display of the latest designs in bathroom, kitchen and laundry equipment will be shown.

Many hundreds of thousands of people have examined this free exhibit along its route from coast to coast, and have carried away many practical ideas and suggestions for the improvement of their homes.

Within the car is installed a modern built-in bath tub complete with overhead shower and Aqua silk curtain. An attractive combination kitchen sink and laundry tray, a popular fixture which saves space, time and steps is also displayed. Lavatories, closets and other bathroom fixtures and accessories help to make this exhibit complete, in addition to the "Premier" automatic storage gas water heater, Crane water softener, and for rural sections and suburban towns beyond the reach of city water mains, the efficient Crane automatic water system.

Fixtures Shown in Actual Operation

Additional interest is given this exhibit through the fact that the supply fixtures of the lavatories and the sink are actually connected to running water. The water is supplied by the Crane automatic water system.

There is no admission charge. None of the fixtures displayed are for sale, though any or all of them may be obtained and installed by your regular plumbing contractor with little or no delay.

A visit by the prospective home builder, as well as the architect and plumbing contractors will provide an opportunity to see new ways of adding to the comfort and convenience of daily home life at modest cost. The Crane representative in charge of this traveling exhibit will be glad to co-operate with you to the fullest extent.

Word comes from Alabama of a young father who has thus far been blessed with three annual sets of twins. Show us a young man so blest and we'll show you one who will settle down and attend to business.

How much easier the work would go and how much more we would accomplish if we would remember to settle all our difficulties with each other in the Father's presence.
I am well and as happy as I can be, until I can return to West China, then I'll be supremely happy.
My love to all,
VIOLA.

R. C. HUNTER &amp; SON Architects

The ground area of this house is small, and the plan is nearly square with no breaks or extensions. This means marked economy in construction.

This house measures but twenty-five feet six inches front, by twenty-two six inches deep, yet, the plan arrangement allows the three main rooms of the first floor to be of good size, owing to the economical use of every square foot of space. It goes well on a forty-foot lot allowing for a driveway.

But the real feature of this house is the second floor plan; here are three good bed rooms, a bath and plenty of closets, all provided over the very modest size of the first floor, and the rooms are not small; besides, they have full ceiling height.

Then, too, the roof extending over the porch to the first story gives the house a broader appearance that is well proportioned to its height, and it allows the house to be placed on a very narrow lot.

Small houses that are full two stories in height usually appear too high for their size, since whether the house be large or small, the ceiling heights vary but little. Small houses should be of the cottage type for the best effects, but, room cannot be sacrificed on the second floor, and this is why a successful small house is hard to find. Generally, small houses are either artistic and impractical, or they are practical but ugly.

The little house shown herewith combines the practical and the economical with the artistic to a marked degree.

Cost about $6500. Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the building editor. Refer to House A-70.

RIVER GROVE

River Grove won their first ball game Sunday from St. Luke's nine, 7 to 0. Games from neighboring villages are welcomed. River Grove will play all comers in their class.

At the last meeting of the village board April 22 the following business was transacted by the board of local improvements. A resolution to adopt an ordinance providing for a connected system of water mains in the 10 acres situated in the southwest section of River Grove was read and on motion accepted. An amendment to the resolution providing sewers, drains, catch basins, etc. was read and on motion accepted. The ordinance was then read and on motion accepted. A motion was made to draw up a resolution to adopt an ordinance increasing the pay of the new board who will take their seats the first meeting in May. No definite amount has been determined but from the many added troubles a trustee has to worry about it is only fair that they be reimbursed better for the efforts they take in behalf of the village.

A good old fashioned party was given at the Progressive Club by the business men's association, with members, their friends and families. Everyone enjoyed a good time. These enjoyable affairs promote a vast spirit of good fellowship among all who attend.

St. Cyprian's "Cupid and Calorie" will be given at the school hall April 29. Don't fail to attend.

The alert watchfulness of a C. M. St. P. fireman prevented a disaster Saturday afternoon when a local train's engine broke one of its driving shafts. His attention was drawn to it in time to warn the engineer who stopped the train at Haymond St. The main line was tied up more than an hour and trains traveling west suffered a set back in their running time. Another engine was called for which towed the crippled locomotive and the train to Bensenville.

According to the ruling of Dennis E. Sullivan's court, the Wilcox boys have won out in their long lawsuit with the Franklin Park Bus Co. The certificate of franchise which was taken from them upon complaint of the Franklin Park Bus Co. have been returned to them which automatically rules Franklin Park buses off the Grand avenue route. They will now be enabled to give the people the service they have longed to give them for some time. Two new buses have been ordered and are ready which the boys intend putting into service immediately.

Grand avenue ditches from Harlem to the river are being filled up preparatory to paving which will come some time soon.

All who has the interests of the River Grove school at heart are invited to attend the meeting every second and fourth Friday at the school house. The dues of each member is $1.00 per year.

At the last meeting of the village board, the returns of Tuesday's election were read and Oscar Streletz, Ernst Anderson were declared elected.

Work on the new service station at Thatcher and Grand has begun and will be finished soon. Geo. Hansen, general contractor, is handling the work.

Vic Neilson who recently returned from Hot Springs, Ark. Sunday evening after a heart attack at his home. No physician could be reached in time to save him. News of his death was a blow to all who knew him.

Bowling season for the Progressive club being over, some thought of running an entertainment or party is being taken up by the members. Watch for the date.

Fire partly destroyed a house owned by Mr. Erick of Oak street. The roof and upper stories of the house, located on Chestnut street, were burned out. A still found in the house was confiscated by the police. The house had been rented and apparently recently deserted.

The play to be staged soon by the Grace Ev. church is progressing very nicely. Owing to the fact that some of the members of the congregation are unable to give the play their immediate attention, some of St. Cyprian's Dramatic club have volunteered to act in their stead. The wonderful co-operation exhibited by the young folks is highly commendable. This kind of work should be encouraged as it promotes a better understanding among the members of both congregations.

Mrs. Pearl Gaebels of Hesing street, River Grove, is getting to be quite a bowler of late, having reached a score of over 100 pins per game, in fact, all the women bowlers are doing nicely but Mrs. Gaebels has more than doubled her average and has always insisted that when she can bowl 100 per game or better the girls were to have a party. How about it, Pearl?

GIRL BABIES

This ought to be read by boys who are inordinately proud of their own vigor and who regard all girls as molluscoides. More boys than girls are born per unit of population, the census bureau finds. And why so? Because they have to be. Nature sees to that and gives us 1,058 boys to 1,000 girls in an effort to keep up proper balance. For boy babies can't stand the hardships of early life so well as girl babies. So many more boys die in infancy than, at the end of the first year, the girls, who started with a numerical handicap, have a big majority. More than 13 baby boys die to ten baby girls.

It is possible that the girls keep their physical superiority, too, though no boy will believe that. The mortality rate for all females in this country is very much less than the rate for all males. Which seems to mean that women stand illness better than men, and so live longer. Moreover, though few men will agree to this, women in general have nearly always done more than men, and probably still do.

SCHILLER PARK

The bunco party held in School hall Saturday evening by the Ladies' aid of the Community church was a big success. Mrs. Ida Tolpe was the lucky winner of the door prize.

We are sorry to hear of the untimely death of Mrs. Prescott, who passed away after an operation at the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago. A number from here attended the funeral Saturday.

Come to the bunco party Saturday evening at St. Beatrice hall. Every one who plays bunco is entitled to a chance on the door prize; also many more fine prizes.

Mr. H. Carter is sporting a new car he purchased of Charles Lusow.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kollow and children have returned home after a visit at Marshfield, Wis.

Mrs. J. Scott and Mrs. J. O'Connor of Franklin Park were visitors in our village Wednesday.

Mrs. F. Hansen was called to Chicago on account of the death of an aunt.

Mr. Allen Ketcher, who runs the Sanitary barber shop, is giving first class service and making friends here. If you try his work you will come again and be well satisfied. The editor was well pleased with his shave. Ketcher is another good business man in our village.

The principals were Miss Alvina Hoppenstaedt of Wooddale, and Mr. Alfred Rosenwinkel, of Maywood, formerly of Itasca. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoppenstaedt Sr., and the groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenwinkel of Maywood.

The bride procession entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Professor G. Egbert. The bride's dress was of ivory satin, with ivory sash, and her veil was of ivory net, cap shaped, trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas, and lilies of the valley.

The third district of the state teachers association held their annual meeting Monday in the Evanston township high school building at Evanston.

About $250 was realized which will be used toward defraying the expenses before May 1; also all people who have not paid their vehicle license and dog tax are notified to attend to same immediately.

Rev. Warren C. Henslee had a very interesting sermon Sunday night. His text was "Phillipians 13-14" "This one I do" and in his sermon he showed how easy it was to be misinterpreted and how easy a person can be misled by the hearsay of another. It reminded us that a person should not be too hasty to judge his fellowmen, for after all when you judge a man to your own self more harm than your fellowmen.

Rev. Henslee has accomplished a great deal in this village not alone in clearing the indebtedness of the church but he has gained a working organization that has done a wonderful lot of good for the community and it surely is great the way the church is crowded to hear his sermons. We hope he will soon compel us to build a larger auditorium to accommodate the people.

I can not recall a time when people were paying as much attention to the building up of their spiritual welfare as they are today. One never knows when he may need the services of a minister, when our last day dawns, so let us build that house eternal, on earth made by hands to commemorate one that is eternal in the heavens.

good success with their studio of Music, in the State Bank building. They have a number of pupils on both the violin and saxophone. These young men are excellent teachers and they expect to give a recital soon, with their pupils Franklin Park has a wonderful lot of music talent. All it needs is to be developed.

We understand Mayor Siebold is to make some changes in his committees. If he does, we hope he will not forget the police and street committees. We know Mayor Siebold intends to make good on all his campaign pledges and while it is a little early for our predictions to burst into full bloom, and as the law of gravity goes into effect you will see conditions in this village getting better and the old conditions and elements shuffling off. You never will see a big man carry a grudge and the man who can laugh at his defeat is to be commended.

Voice of the People

Two weeks ago the local editor of Bensenville started the ball rolling by writing an article suggesting that Wooddale and Bensenville be merged into one town for the benefit of both. Also suggested that people interested in the future of either place take advantage of the "Voice of the People" column of the Register and make their ideas known. Last week's paper did contain a short, snappy rap at the writer for proposing such a thing and ended the short letter by using "Sam's" personal expression Anwa, Ahwa, Ahwa. Now we have listened to Sam and Henry quite often and have always noticed that when Sam used that expression he was very scared and not hurt. We really did not mean to scare anyone in our former letter, neither did we propose to force modern improvements on to some one who was satisfied with the methods and conditions of our ancestors. From all reports some of the people living in Wooddale have voiced a desire to make the pretty little wood-dale spot modern in every respect. Our letter was only a suggestion for consideration as a solution to the situation as it now exists at Wooddale. The writer asks why we are so anxious to get our claws on Wooddale. This is the first time we have ever been referred to as a "Hawk" or any other bird that gathers its food by picking of birds and bugs, with its claws. We were somewhat surprised to hear a citizen of Wooddale register the kick as we expected all the opposition to come from this side of the proposed super highway. As for Bensenville water supply not being sufficient to keep our town's face clean we are well aware of the fact that whenever a fire broke out in town there was sufficient water to extinguish the same. And we were of the opinion that owners of beautiful Wooddale homes would be proud to say the same thing. We conceded that Wooddale has the more attractive name of the two towns and the fact that Bensenville is growing by leaps and bounds and getting every modern improvement installed while our sister town is still staying on the old footing, can be laid to no other cause than that our citizens are not content to remain in the old rut and get stuck in the old groove. Our grandfathers' ox cart got stuck in modern improvements. We are what home seekers are looking for and what they are going to get, even if they have to go still farther out than Bensenville or Wooddale to find it. If the majority of the people of Bensenville desired to get these improvements and the majority of the people of Bensenville are willing to give the two towns and give Wooddale people an opportunity to get them at a cost they would never have another chance to get, we believe both towns would be benefited. This is only our own opinion while the letter last week was only the opinion of one Wood-dale resident. Perhaps some one else in the town will let us know our readers, their opinion on the matter. We hope so at least.

Bensenville Boosters and Athletes were out on the ball field Sunday afternoon, but on account of the cold day very few people cared to attend. The boys did not get down to regular ball playing until a friendly practice game.

Most of the time was taken up with batting in and out fields and throwing the ball around the bases. Being the first time out on the diamond this year all the players were careful not to over exert themselves and everything went along time. However the boys on both teams showed that with warm weather and a few days practice they are going to give out of town teams some real games this year.

Next Sunday the Boosters cross bats with a Bartlett team at Bartlett. Those interested in the success of their team should not fail to attend and see their boys in action.

Bensenville Starts Flood Relief Fund. All those in and around Bensenville who feel interested in helping the Mississippi river flood victims are urged to donate whatever they feel able towards the relief of these unfortunate neighbors to the local headquarters of the Red Cross.

The First State bank have gladly offered their time and attention in receiving cash donations, and any gift of food or clothing may be left at the home of the local chairman, Mrs. J. Capoot, who will give this work her earnest personal attention. We feel that Bensenville and vicinity will respond quickly and generously to the needs of these stricken people. The raging waters of the Mississippi river have washed away the homes of thousands of men, women and children who have fled to the hill tops, there, with whatever food and clothing they could carry, to await the relief we are now gathering together to send them. To fail in sending immediate relief to these unfortunate neighbors only means that many will suffer and die from exposure.

The Master has said, "In as much as you have done it unto these my children, so have you done it unto me." Let us begin today to bring in any and all the clothing, food or cash donations that we can, to be sent at once to the sufferers.

The Fox Lunch Room is open for business and enjoying a good trade. The traveling public soon learn in a large roomy dining room is opened on a through highway and are not long in getting acquainted with the service they are to expect there.

Ferd Riley and family autoed to Madison, Wis., Sunday for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Wm. Peck was called to Pittsburg, Kansas, last week on account of the illness of her mother. The food sale by the Ladies Aid society of the First Evangelical church Saturday afternoon netted them $32. Many of the donors not wishing to run opposition to the local baker alone donated vegetables and canned goods which were put up at home and other foods besides pies and cakes.

This idea met with the approval of those attending the sale who had at all former sales only been able to purchase bread, pies, cakes and cookies. The variety of food stuff sold was greatly appreciated.

Wm. Rand's family moves to Chicago this week.

The new residence on the Orphan Home row of lots is going up quite fast and as a large crew of men are working on it it will soon be ready to occupy.

The gas company are busy this week extending their lines to various parts of the town where new residences are being built.

Gerald was under Dr. Oak's care the first of the week on account of a severe cold settled in the stomach. He is able to return to school.

Mrs. Robert DiVall who was ill last week is much better.

Property owners along the proposed street paving in town should see to it that the water and sewer connections are made and run to the property line before the paving starts. The work will have to be done before the paving on their street is done and should the property owners neglect it the village board will have to have it done, which always carries a higher cost than if done by the owners themselves.

A great many houses in Bensenville now have the street numbers on and it surely is an improvement and for the few pennies it costs even the money people as well as those of moderate means should see that their house number is placed where it will be seen. The increase in population, the great amount of cement sidewalk, the annexing of different subdivisions, the great increase in the earning of our post office and other things that enter into the case will soon put Bensenville in a position to ask for free mail delivery. Let us all get behind every move that will make Bensenville bigger and better.

John Geils had the misfortune to get the two middle fingers of his left hand too close to a circle saw he was operating with the result that he clipped the ends of those two fingers off. John, however, says it might have been worse if he had got a little closer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cregmille drove to Kirkland Sunday to attend the tenth wedding anniversary of a couple who are very dear friends of theirs.

The bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Cregmille Tuesday evening.

Swails Bros. with their big truck moved the Wm. Rands household effects from the Stock upper flat Tuesday. They moved to a flat in the city. All sorry to see any of our good neighbors moving out of town, but as there are no empty flats in town at this time people desiring to move are forced to seek other locations.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Sangates of Chicago visited at the Harvey Cregmille home Tuesday.

A new basement put on Pine avenue this week preparatory to building another residence on this beautiful street. As Pine avenue is one of the streets that will be paved this year there should be no vacant lots on this street by fall. Harold Franzen is having this one erected.

Brick layers have begun work veneering the new Wolf residence on Center street. This new home will soon be ready to occupy as carpenters are at work finishing the interior.

York street is a wonderful driveway but drivers should not forget that there is a limit to the speed they are allowed to travel on it. Monday evening an out-of-town driver carelessly forgot himself and had to "tell it to the judge." This should be a lesson to all drivers to keep within the limit at all times. The officers of Bensenville are not anxious to stop auto drivers, but if violations do occur they are in duty-bound, whether the violator is from Bensenville or out of town, to do their duty so the best way to avoid trouble or hard feelings is to keep within the law.

Our readers will do well to look over the advertisements of our local merchants in the Register as bargains will appear from week to week and they may be able to save long tiresome trips to the city where they often pay more than their own merchants are selling the same article for. New ads. are

Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. J. E. A. Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Freche of Tescota, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stallman and infant son, from South Milwaukee, Mrs. Selma Freche also of South Milwaukee and Mr. Frederick Kringsel from Chicago. ### School Board Rejects Bids for School Bonds

The board of directors of the public school district No. 57 met at the school house Tuesday evening, April 26, at 8 o'clock, to open bids for the $25,000 bond issue recently authorized. H. C. Spears Co. of Chicago and Phillip, White & Co. of Davenport were the highest bidders. The trustees retired for conference and upon returning a motion was made by Mr. Edwin Busse and seconded and carried that the bids be rejected. When the announcement was made the two highest bidders withdrew their bids.

The action of the board was taken for the purpose of securing an offer of a lower rate of interest. The premiums offered by the two highest bidders were $1122 with five percent interest and $437.50 with an interest rate of 4 1/2 percent. The higher bid represented a premium of over four per cent.

Just to remind you—please keep your dog at home, or some day you'll have no dog.

A proclamation has been issued by Mr. Wm. Busse, president of the board of trustees, to authorize the Mount Prospect Chamber of Commerce and the Mount Prospect Post 1337 V. F. W. to receive and secure donations for the sufferers who are losing all, by being left homeless and destitute in the flooded districts of the Mississippi valley, and to send same to the American Red Cross. At the time of writing we can safely say that about three hundred dollars has been donated to this worthy cause.

Greetings—We wish to extend a cordial welcome to the recent newcomers that have moved into our midst during the past week, and take this means of introducing them as the families of A. C. Dresser, B. C. Bolton, B. C. Ivers and J. Gehring.

Mrs. Buelow became a member of the St. Paul's Ladies Aid society at their last meeting.

On Friday, April 22, Mrs. Pahnke, daughter of Rev. Teiss of Schaumburg was laid to rest. She leaves to mourn her loss, a bereaved husband, relatives and many friends. Among those from Mount Prospect who attended the funeral were Rev. Mueller, Rev. Elsie, Mr. Wm. Busse, Jr., Mrs. Louise Rohlfing and Mr. Fenz.

Sunday, April 24, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Biegel celebrated their silver wedding anniversary, with 90 guests. In the services Rev. Mueller used the same text that was used at the ceremony twenty-five years ago, it being Romans 12:12. This was a very prominent celebration from the standpoint that it is the first silver wedding to be celebrated on either side of the family. May Mr. and Mrs. Biegel have the pleasure of adding another twenty-five years to their wedded life.

Huecker Ford Service, expert mechanics, truck service. Mt. Prospect, Illinois. (9-30*)

Progress is being made on the two new business buildings and it is indeed a sight to see the design of the William Busse & Son building; it is rather pleasing to the eye and, as far as can be present be judged, it is something new in business building construction.

Have you noticed that the C. & N. W. railroad has put on two extra trains for us on the summer schedule? One arrives here at 7:20 a. m., daylight saving time, and the other leaves here at 8:34 a. m., for Chicago. Several other minor changes have been made, so if you have no new time card better get one, to be right when you want to ride the train.

A pretty spot in our village is the Lonnquist Country Club subdivision; trees have been set and the park and playgrounds have been laid out, which adds another beauty spot for us to look to.

The Henry Reese & Sons men have made considerable headway in the last week. Although they have had bad weather, they did good work and are well qualified to handle the work.

"The car was brought to a local garage and was badly damaged,"—item in newspaper.

EAST MAINE

Lester Sonn is proudly sporting a brand new Ford sedan.

Maynard Sonn of Fond du Lac, Wis., spent Saturday and Sunday visiting his brother, Lester of East Maine.

Mrs. John W. Kath and Mrs. Ehler Kath, Jr., of Morton Grove, who have the good fortune of being twin sisters, celebrated their birthday anniversaries April 20 at the home of the former. Numerous relatives were present to enjoy the dual celebration and all report a pleasant time.

No doubt many of our readers will be interested to learn that Mrs. John Schwing of DesPlaines, a former East Mainite, is at the Evanston hospital where she underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor April 22. She stood the operation successfully and latest reports say she is well on the road to recovery.

St. Matthews Ladies Aid are planning a spring time bunco party to be given in the school hall Friday and Saturday evenings, May 6 and 7. Tickets may be obtained from any of the members of the Aid and are selling at 25c each. A large array of beautiful prizes will be on hand for lucky winners and besides a tasty luncheon will be served. Remember the dates and reserve one or both of them for the ladies bunco party.

Two more birthday celebrations occurring April 24 were those of Mrs. Walter Sternberg and Mr. John Pump, where relatives and friends gathered at both homes and took part in the festivities.

At the last meeting of St. Matthews Ladies Aid held at the school hall April 21, after the regular routine of business had been dispensed with, a surprise was announced, which had been planned and put over by eight of the ladies whose birthdays occurred during April. These eight ladies were: Mrs. John Ahrensfield, Mrs. Edward Altenberg, Mrs. Kate Beto, Mrs. Ehler Goettsche, Mrs. Ehler Kath, Jr., Mrs. John W. Kath, Mrs. Walter Sternberg and Mrs. Julius Toepel. These eight happy members had provided prizes for all and a jolly game of bunco was indulged in after which the refreshments were served and there another surprise appeared in the form of a large and most delicious birthday cake. The cake had eight candles, not for anybody's age, but one for each of the celebrants. Of course, this particular meeting lasted longer than the usual monthly meetings, but everybody had a splendid time and thoroughly enjoyed the little surprise put over by their fellow members.

MELVIN ENGEL

The sombre angel of death passes back and forth over the land stopping now to summon a person bent with age and having fulfilled his duties on this earth, and again gathering into its fold a little child. Thus on April 18 was Melvin, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Engel quietly removed from this world of sadness and sorrow. For although little Melvin had reached the age of 7 years, 1 month and 20 days, he had never been able to enjoy or take part in the joys and delights of a normal child's pleasures, having been paralytically deformed since infancy. All possible medical aid was obtained by the loving and anxious parents in the hope that something might prove to be the medium thru which normal health might be gained for their son but all efforts were futile. About three weeks prior to his death, Melvin contracted a severe cold which finally developed into pneumonia.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon April 21 at the Engel home on Ballard road and continued at St. Matthews Lutheran church with Rev. Toepel officiating.

A SCANDAL MONGER

Why do you try to learn something of a derogatory nature about those you know?

Why make the simplest action appear as if it were to be questioned?

By innuendo and by other means, is it not your delight to circulate reports which cast a shadow upon the reputations of other persons?

What good do you get out of defaming another?

If you could overlook certain little indiscretions and think of the good that the same person has done and is doing, you might be better pleased with yourself.

What comfort do you get from your suspicions?

Perhaps your neighbor does do things that are puzzling you, but if you are not sure that they are wrong you have no right to judge from appearances.

Are you so good, so clean in your own record so unafraid and unashamed as far as your own past is concerned that you can afford to keep picking others to shreds, regardless of the justice of your attacks?

There is none more merciless nor more unfair than a scandal monger.

SKILL WITH HOME TOOLS

If you visit a farm home just before the spring begins, you would probably find the farmer quite busily employed in fixing up his tools for the season. He would be sharpening his cutting instruments, repairing his wagons and trucks, mending his harness, also patching up his buildings.

In these days when repair work costs much more than formerly, the farmer needs to be skillful in these home jobs. If he had to summon a mechanic from the nearest town when anything got out of order, it would eat a big hole in his receipts.

The people who live in cities and towns, do not have such skill. In your town, many men are not good on repair work about their home places. They need more of this old fashioned skill. The house holder of former days knew all about hammers and screwdrivers and paint brushes, and it was one way he got his start in life.

The radio may go under government control, which will certainly not remove the static, if it gets anywhere near the Senate.

Things have come to a pretty pass in this country when a man can't occupy a senate seat that he bought and paid for.

Buick Power is proved on the 24-Hour Hill

Buick knows that the famous Buick Valve-in-Head Engine produces more power for its size than any other automobile engine on earth.

Buick has proved this fact decisively at the great Proving Ground of General Motors, on the "24-Hour Hill"—a mechanical device which faithfully duplicates the pull of any hill for any number of miles.

Test, not guess, is the basis for Buick design. Buick success is founded on this constant search for the new and better thing—on this accurate, beforehand knowledge of results.

Among the Theatres

Paul Has 'Em 'Runnin' Wild' At Oriental

"Runnin' Wild!" Paul Ash is going to put that gang of his through their paces next week at the Oriental theatre and he has appropriately named his show "Runnin' Wild" because when Paul gets started things get wilder and wilder.

As a matter of fact though, Paul is arranging a huge jazz show in which the pace will be about as fast as it is possible for actors to deliver, and for that reason Paul's named his show "Runnin' Wild."

In a measure Paul has worked out a novelty finish for this production which he is keeping secret. But there is no secret about his expectations for fun and frolic from it. For a finish, distinctly changing scenes, following each other in kaleidoscopic rapidity, but all centering on the same thought and action reflex. Jazz, of course, is the basis of it all, but the quick changing scenes are for novelty and variety.

As a good running mate for the stage production, Paul will have Bebe Daniels on the screen in the popular comedienne's latest and what is reported to be the funniest of her comedies. It is called "Senorita."

Bebe is still in Europe. For some time past Bebe Daniels has been in France. This time she trips to romantic Spain and what that girl doesn't do to those bull fighters and caballeros is a caution. Like one matador remarked, "When she looked at me, I forgot the bull."

In this production Bebe fights a full, fights a villainous Spaniard, fights for the man she loves, and spreads laughter and heart throbs over every foot of the six and one-half reels of the fun.

Dramatic Intensity In "Fire Brigade" At The Roosevelt

Not since Charley Ray played in "The Girl I Loved" has he had a role that approached in dramatic intensity and sincerity that of Terry O'Neill in "The Fire Brigade," the epic love story now current at the Roosevelt theatre.

Of course Terry O'Neill is a part that would delight the heart of every good actor. Also it has afforded Ray the one opportunity he has needed to get back to the popularity and favoritism that once was his. But this role, which inclines to the highly dramatic as well as to the romantic role is balanced by a wealth of typical Charles Ray comedy. And that is what Charlie Ray needed above all other things.

May McAvoy in the feminine lead opposite Ray, also drew a role that afforded her every opportunity for displaying her marked ability as both a comedienne and as a dramatic actress.

In fact, in point of acting, direction and even story, the "Fire Brigade" qualifies as one of the really great pictures of the decade. Aside from the fact that it is one of the greatest of all thrillers with the rushing of fire engines, the clang of the bell, the shriek of the siren, the jumping of firemen with their saved ones into nets hundreds of feet below, the picture is also one of the finest and most intense love stories ever told.

The mother love element is another of the highlights of this splendid spectacle, and some of the reviewers were not averse to giving Eugenia Besserer, who plays the role of the mother, the bulge in their hearts of praise.

Baseball Thrills In This Picture

A great grandstand in New York filled with thousands of yelling fans—and the two most famous baseball team in America battling the setting. Cameras were sent from the studios and set up during the New York games, and William Haines, hero of the story, donned a Yankee uniform and appeared with the New Yorkers against the St. Louis Cardinals, for the intimate scenes in the picture.

The new production, biggest baseball picture in history, is an intimate tale of life with a major league team, with Haines in the role of hero. Sally O'Neill, Karl Dane, Harry Carey, Warner Richmond, Junior Sogland, Eileen Sedgwick, and other noted players. Also some of the most famous baseball players in America make their screen debut in the picture, such men as Bob Meusel and "Irish" Meusel and Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees; Mike Donlin, world's greatest hitter and for years idol of the New York Giants, and others of note.

The third major feature of this huge production is the startling innovation, the "Orchestral Production," directed by H. Leopold Spitalny. In this mammoth stage game will appear 20 dancers, songsters and funmakers, all blending their talent into this huge production of harmony and beauty.

A young woman went out to teach a country school. The class arithmetic was before her. She said:

"Now children, if there are ten sheep on one side of a wall and one jumps over, how many sheep will be left?"

Then up piped a little tow-headed daughter of a farmer:

"No sheep, teacher; no sheep."

"Oh, oh," cried the city young woman reproachfully, "You are not so stupid as that! Think again. If there were ten sheep on one side of the wall one jumped over, nine sheep would be left. Don't you see that?"

"No! no! no!" persisted the child.

"If one sheep jumped over all the others would jump after. My father keeps sheep."

Then, seeing the puzzled look on the teacher's face, the little tow-headed explained apologetically:

"You know 'rithmetic, but I know sheep."

The boys was out pretty late a-playing poker one night last week so when at last they started home Les Brane says to Ammi Knott,

"What excuse you going to give your wife?" says he.

"Hah!" Ammi says, "Just let her dast to ast me where I been!" says he. So the next night Ammi's little boy went down to Hi Price's to get a sack o' flower, which he could skursley carry it, and Hi says,

"Why didn't your paw come an fetch it?" says he. "Why paw hasn't been able to get outen the house today."

women to formal afternoon tea-towns, were worn by Miss Ralston and fifteen beautiful mannequins. They were especially designed by Travis Banton, noted fashion creator, following a search through the style centers of the world for the latest information upon the forthcoming season's trend in wearing apparel.

"Fashions for Women" was made for the screen by Dorothy Arzner, one of the first women ever promoted to the position of director of the history of films. Supporting Miss Ralston are Einar Hanson and Raymond Hatton.

Sousa and His Band Come to the Chicago Theatre Week May 2

From New York comes the interesting news that Lieut.-Com. John Phillip Sousa, beloved March King, is tuning up his big band in preparation for his one week's appearance at the Chicago theatre beginning May 2.

A feature of the Sousa tour this season will be three new marches instead of the usual two. "Pride of the Wolverines," dedicated to the city of Detroit; "Gridiron March," dedicated to the Gridiron Club of Washington, D. C., and "Sesqui-Centennial March," dedicated to the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia and designated as the official march, are the new offerings. Of course there is a new humorous march, this season, entitled "The Wets and the Drys," and setting forth in terms of music both sides of the Prohibition question.

In "Evening Clothes," his newest Paramount starring vehicle coming to the Chicago theatre as the screen portion of the program on Monday, Adolphe Menjou creates another of his unforgettable screen characters. He demonstrates anew his versatility in the very opening scenes, when he portrays the French gentleman-farmer, whose pleasures are the native pleasures of rustic life. He is driven to become a boulevardier, when his marriage turns out to be a failure.

Germaine (Virginia Vail), who marries him in deference to her parents' wishes, seems him and his uncouth friends. She has been brought up in the drawing rooms of Paris and is out of sympathy with the country life. Realizing their incompatibility he allows her to leave home the night of their marriage. Life henceforth is a battle of wits with Menjou at his best in all the finer subtleties of acting.

The third major feature of this huge production is the startling innovation, the "Orchestral Production," directed by H. Leopold Spitalny. In this mammoth stage game will appear 20 dancers, songsters and funmakers, all blending their talent into this huge production of harmony and beauty.

THE MODERN CROOK

The cartoonists used to depict crooks as rough, coarse, and fierce looking people. But according to the New York Times, the type of young men who are making a business of robbing stores, have a fondness for good clothes and are very fastidious.

One could guess that the desire to make a swell appearance with their girl friends, is the motive that prompts many of these fellows to do their dirty work. Their fine feathers will be wasted on the wardens and turnkeys of the jails where they seem to be destined to spend most of their lives.

Too much sleep is supposed to make some people irritable. Evidently a case of or too to bed and surely to rise.—Ottawa Journal.

Work Cut Out For New Board

Village officers-elect will take their seats at the regular meeting of the Village Council Tuesday, May 3, at which time it is expected that Lester W. Coons, newly elected mayor, will make any new appointments considered up to date.

Pledged to conduct the village business on an economical basis, with improvements when and where needed, considerable work immediately confronts the board-elect, inasmuch as Glenview is lagging behind her neighboring villages in the matter of underground improvements and paved streets.

Already territory to the east of Waukegan road has petitioned and been granted a storm water sewer system and paved streets as needed for the orderly development of that section. This has been the more easily handled because the ownership of the land involved is in the hands of developers who have selected Glenview as a desirable home location. With the transportation assured by the Skokie Valley branch of the North Shore line the development of this territory will come with the installation of the improvements that makes a progressive home center.

So much has been done by the administration just ending. What will occur in the territory west of Waukegan road as to development remains to be seen. The more thickly populated portion of the village lies in the hands of the individual home developer who often becomes a panic stricken when his pocketbook is assailed by special assessment notices, and it is in this particular section in need of storm water drainage that the battle against the installation of such a sewer was waged with the result of the project's abandonment.

Whether the new board of trustees will act upon this need in the immediate future is not known, but on the supposition that improvements will be installed "when and where needed," it must follow that such a project will come if logical development of the older part of the village is to be assured.

The hope for an increase in population equal to that predicted for other promising villages in this section can only be fulfilled by an honest-to-goodness, orderly, up-to-date development. Such a development has been in the minds of the Progressive administration and its followers and it is the hope of those at present in the administration that a change of the present picture of the village in the way of needed improvements.

Never in the history of the village growth have necessary improvements come without controversy and balking on the part of the unprogressive element; nevertheless improvements have gone in, to the credit of the administration in control and the logical development of the village while home builders. One, and a possible second, means of transportation has been added as an attraction.

The development of the area fed by the Skokie Valley branch is assured and if the Milwaukee railroad center is to keep pace underground improvements and paving must come also to that section.

beautiful rose colored salad plates. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Dillon entertained guests of Oak Park on Thursday.

SCHAUMBURG

Everything is going in full boom. The Westmore club started excavating and building on their new golf grounds.

Mr. C. Jensen, our home town carpenter, is busy remodeling the house for Mr. Feciere on the Hartman place in near Schaumburg Center. If you have any repair work or remodeling to do come and see me. I will give a fair deal. Let us get acquainted.

R. Gerscheffsky and Frank Winkelhake are busy plowing and putting the gardens in shape for their neighbors, who are glad to have him do it. Treat your neighbor the way you want to be treated and you will always have a friend in need.

Quite a number of people from far and near attended the funeral of Mrs. Gertrude Pantke, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Theis, last Friday, who died after a long illness Thursday, April 19, and was laid to rest on the St. Petri Luth. cemetery in Schaumburg. A large number of flower pieces were contributed from their friends and neighbors, who are many. Rev. Zerzen preached the German service and Rev. Ulrich, the English sermon. May her body rest in peace to the day of the glorious resurrection!

L. Schomack and Mr. Feciere are putting in a septic tanks and sewerage disposal, a good step toward sanitation of our little village at a time; helps a lot in the future. P. Salge & Son got the contract.

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly gave their sympathy and help in our recent bereavement, also those who sent or brought the beautiful floral tokens.

Oscar Pantke, Rev. and Mrs. Theis.

GLENVIEW

Posters announcing the long-heralded mask ball sponsored by the police department of Glenview made their appearance this week. The dance will be held at the school hall on the night of Saturday, May 14.

The poster announces a list of prizes sufficient to inspire originality and artistic ability.
Chief J. V. Miller and Officer Roy Lee have been selling tickets and making every effort to make the occasion a real fun-making event. The proceeds of the dance will be used as a foundation for the fund to be raised for the erection of a new modern police station.

Remembering the success of the benefit dance last fall and the pride that is locally felt in the fine squad car purchased through the proceeds, Chief Miller and his associates are making all efforts to put this affair "over big."

"Auto Ditched in 'Death Curve.'" "Death Curve" claimed one more life as its toll at the bridge on Waukegan Road early Sunday morning when a Chevrolet sedan with eight passengers, all young people, careened on to the side of the road, going south at the curve north of the bridge, turned over and into an electric light and telephone pole, splintering it about seven feet above the ground.

Daylight disclosed the broken pole still standing encircled with fragments of the windshield and doors to tell the story of one more wild night ride.

No call for Glenview police came in but late theater-goers returning home in the neighborhood reported cars at the bridge but no commotion, as the wreck was not witnessed by any one who could give a detailed report.

In the car Miss Mildred Dunlop, 17 years of age, of 7455 Greenview avenue, was reported fatally injured. She sustained a broken back and other injuries. Since the accident she is said to have succumbed to the injuries.

The car was a rented one and driven by Arthur Jungwirth, 18, of 3514 Natchez avenue. Photographers taking pictures of the curve and its environment were on the scene the greater part of Monday.

Identification of the other passengers was not made.

What is the N. A. S. Club?

The members of the N. A. S. club have been asked repeatedly what N. A. S. stood for, and there is only one way to find out. Make application to join the club and if any one of the seven couples who are now members should drop out, which is highly improbable, your application might be considered.

On last Thursday evening the club met at the Dr. Volberding home and enjoyed a unique innovation. Several weeks ago Elmer Cooper was elected president and Florence Rossiter, elected Vice-President. During this business meeting it was decided to appoint two or three members each meeting to provide entertainment at the ensuing meeting. For the evening of Thursday, April 14th, the president appointed Robert Chessman, Elizabeth Abel and Ida Roloff to entertain and if the succeeding entertainers wish to beat their performance they will have to join the best vaudeville school in America.

Our next program is entrusted to Walter Rossiter, Julius Abel and Myrtle Heniken and the club members are anxiously awaiting their offering.

Tender Notes Burned by Mrs. Washington

After George Washington's death his widow burned every letter that she had received from him, with the exception of three or four that escaped apparently by accident.

No one has ever elucidated the mystery behind this letter burning episode, Martha Washington knew at the time. Indeed, the whole world knew that George Washington was a star of the first magnitude in the field of history and that every scrap of his writing would be treasured and printed. Did she feel that his letters to her were so sacred in their intimacy that posterity had no right to read them?

But there are other tenable hypotheses. She was antedemocratic and antipublic to an extreme degree. Considering her as surrounded by such limitations of perspective, one may readily conceive that her motive may have been simply one of aristocratic seclusion.

In destroying his letters she effectually effaced herself, for she lived only in his reflected light. But that may have been what she wanted. The highest form of pride is a disdainful humility.—The Nation.
